

Right (Kirk) vs. Wrong (Terrorists)

‘A traffic officer pulled a motorist over to the curb and demanded to see his driver’s license. The driver produced a license, which the officer studied suspiciously for several minutes before returning it and waving him on. The officer explained, “You were driving so carefully, I was certain you had an invalid license”.’

Can you imagine a time when driving so carefully was the norm, and not an exception? Many of us can remember times many decades ago when just living life was a lot easier. People got along much better with each other. Most people were honest and could be believed. A time when one’s word actually was as good as gold. Doors were left unlocked and neighbors could be trusted to look after, and even properly discipline, someone else’s children. When most people, even politicians told the truth a lot more frequently than most do today.

Things are vastly different now. Those simple, fundamental virtues that we used to take for granted, are so exceptional that it is practically shocking when someone displays them. Some people today, would rather kill another human being than have to look at them. After all, “disagreeable people are infringing on our rights to the oxygen in the air. Every breath they take means just that much less oxygen for us. To say nothing of the germs, and pollution, their bad breath, their disgustingness that they spew mindlessly into the air around them. And that the rest of us have to both walk through and even breathe!! Again, this is to say nothing of their appearances. What an assault to our eyes!! Such ugly apparel, such unkempt looks, what an abomination that we simple can't unsee!! Best dispatch such a lowlife human to some other place. Far away. Some place where they're not even alive. That's the best of all. After all, they don't think properly. They don't do the proper things. Or say the correct things. Or use others' preferred pronouns. They're not only disagreeable, they're downright obnoxious, offensive, vile, and worst of all, they seem to want to impose their filthy, putrid ideas and thinking on all the rest of us. They're just downright tyrannical. They won't even let the rest of us alone, to live in peace!! It's gotten so bad, that, folks, we've just had it up to here with their lies and obscenities, and insanity, their prudish behaviors, their ghastly intolerance of any unlike themselves, that, well, hasn't the time come to just get rid of these 'useless eaters'? Just imagine how much better, more civil, kinder and tolerant our society would be if we could just rid ourselves of all those ignoramuses? How much money we could save in government entitlement savings we would realize? Why, it could go a very long way in reducing our deficit spending! All around benefits for everyone of us. So let's just kill them all off. Isn't it about time?"

And so the perverted thinking goes. And all those ideas, those lies, those deceptions, are gradually turning whole groups of people in America and around the world, into terrorists! Calling for violence, for the death of those who would dare oppose them, has already resulted in the assassinations of many. From history we can recall President Abraham Lincoln, President John F. Kennedy, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King. And now Charlie Kirk. America has lost a towering figure not unlike JFK. Cut off in the prime of life, one can only imagine what far-reaching influence he would have had in opening the eyes of more and more millions of younger people to the Truth. Real America is in mourning. Coupled with the 24th anniversary of 9/11, this has been a somber week, and will continue to be for quite some time.

While we may think that these times we're living in are extraordinary, when we read King Solomon's observations recorded in Ecclesiastes, we see that such times have been going on for nearly all of human history. Truly, as Solomon said, what is now, has been before, and will be again. And we're seeing it now. Good people are too often the ones punished. So often has this happened in just our lifetimes that the adage, "No good deed goes unpunished" is heard repeated all too much. And Charlie Kirk's good deeds and good words became too much for the leftists "progressives" ensconced in the ivory towers of academia, the public school system, the legacy media, government, and in far too many boardrooms of corporate America. It's become a truism that America is split down the middle. Half are conservative. Half are liberal. This is false. Liberal, leftist progressives have never been close to a majority in this country. They just talk a lot louder, and, frankly, never shut up. They use whatever means they can find, by hook or by crook, to get what they want, and make themselves look as if they represent the majority. The examples are legion. In fact, they can hardly achieve anything without the “crook”. Without cheating; without underhanded, under the table, dealings and machinations, bribes and secret payouts and pay-offs, they would never have gotten as far as they have. But, as another old adage goes, “the chickens are coming home to roost”. As the Lord promised, what has been hidden is being uncovered. There’s so much of it, that it’s taking a very long time for it all to come to light. The Lord also told us that in the last days, the wicked will become increasingly more wicked. But the righteous will become more righteous. The confusing, deceptive gray area is fading away, like the lifting of a dense fog. It’s becoming increasingly obvious who is on the right, and who is on the wrong. Who is righteous and on God’s side. And who is on the devil’s side, the terrorists. There is no middle ground.

The same foolishness, insanity, wokeism, propaganda brainwashing that nearly all colleges force down their student’s throats, under penalty of expulsion and forfeiture of graduation, and desirable employment opportunities for their future lives, has molded nearly all of the younger generation to become wicked terrorists. For not all terrorists carry guns and plant bombs. Their words can be just, if not more, devastating that the momentary trauma, destruction and death, physical violence causes. And with good words, words of truth, being spouted loudly by the righteous, then, what's left to do but to silence the righteous? And Tyler Robinson appears to have been the human pawn used by demons to put a stop to Charlie Kirk's "unbearable" words. His words were being heard by far too many otherwise impressionable collegians who were being steered in an altogether "incorrect" direction, away from the terrorist kingdom of the devil. And how much more delicious and devilish to use one from a conservative, Republican family? Turning one of our own into a terrorist instrument!

The "fingerprints" of the terrorist devil are all over the place. Ultimately, he can't resist leaving his calling card on all his evil, vile works. As a liar from the beginning, his irresistible lusts are simple: kill, steal and destroy. The common thread in all the recent shootings has been trendy transgenderism. Tyler's "girlfriend", was a guy in transition to a gal. Rabbi Jonathan Cahn has observed that the shooter in the Annunciation Catholic School shooting just over two weeks ago, "had a picture of Jesus with a bullseye in the scope of a gun. In other words, to fire at Jesus. Who would put that up? A demonic being would put that up". That shooter also "was in conversation with a demonic spirit in the mirror, as if the demonic spirit is him or is in him as in possessed". The devil can't help but imitate God, and put his spin on things, to make it obvious that this is satan's work. "In Nashville" [in 2023],

“the number of children who were killed was nine. Their ages were nine, nine and nine. That’s the inversion. Turn it upside down, it is 666”. “In Minnesota the most accurate reports is(sic) that the number that were injured were 18 people. Eighteen is the sum or total of 6-6-6. Nobody could have put that together”.

The lesson here is obvious. The devil wants to turn people into terrorists. Palestinian terrorists. Korean terrorists. Russian terrorists. American terrorists. Families need to pay vigilant attention to their children, to protect them as much as they can, from such demonic, occultic, terrorist indoctrination. The greatest tool to use is, of course, prayer. Sometimes, years of prayer.

Despite the current rehashes of historical periods from distant times, our times are actually unprecedented. Because we’re living in the Bible’s prophesied end times. Things are not going to continue on as they have been indefinitely. Things are coming to a climax. When we consider our Lord God’s foretelling of what’s just around the bend, we know that the great harvest of souls, especially young souls, is even now in its early stages. Charlie Kirk’s single voice may have been silenced. But because his “wheat seed” is now being buried in the ground, it will rise up and produce a harvest of 100 fold, 1,000 fold, 10,000 fold and more. For many slumbering believers in America, and the world, have been shaken awake, and are realizing that we’ve little time left to share the Gospel to the youngins so they can see the Truth that will set them free!
